

Sham Madhok, FCPA, FCA, CFA, ICD.D

Sham Madhok is an accomplished board director who brings insights to the boardroom from 35 years of global experience in Canada, the UK, the US and other countries. She utilizes her diverse experience in governance, strategy, risk, finance, people and culture, and M&A to advance strategic priorities. Sham spent 29 years at PwC, progressing to hold several leadership roles including the Deals National Risk Management Partner, the Federal Government Infrastructure Leader, and Healthcare PPP Leader, delivering transactions with a value of $40 billion. A trailblazer for equity and inclusion, her efforts alongside many others, led to the passage of Pay Equity Legislation in 1987. Sham currently serves on the York University board and is the former Chair of the University's global alumni board. She has also served on the boards of two healthcare organizations and was a senior advisor to the University of Ottawa. She is a graduate of the Harvard Business School Women's Leadership program and Climate Change Leadership at Cornell. Sham is a certified corporate director (ICD.D), holds the CFA designation and a BCom from York University. In 2017, she was named a Diversity 50 Candidate by the Canadian Board Diversity Council. In 2022, Sham was honoured as a Fellow Chartered Professional Accountant (FCPA, FCA).
