

Ameeta Soni

Ameeta Soni is a corporate director and executive with expertise in governance, strategy, AI, digital transformation, and growth. Her board experience spans private and public companies, including Westpak, publicly held Esker through its successful private equity acquisition, Ompractice, and Plumchoice. She advises public, private equity-backed, and venture-backed technology and health care companies and frequently serves in interim executive leadership roles. A NACD Directorship Certified® director, Ameeta is passionate about helping aspiring directors prepare for boardroom success.